Purpose: In keeping with CSU guidelines, this policy provides consistent instructions for conducting equitable and inclusive tenure-track faculty searches, including how search committees should be formed; what steps should be taken by the committee Chair, by the Department Chair and by the Dean; and which responsibilities fall to each of the above.

Scope: This policy applies to all campus searches for tenure-track faculty.

Accountability: Academic Department, School or Library, and Provost Office.

Policy: In order to adhere to CSU guidelines, to meet HR compliance requirements, and to follow best practices for attracting a diverse pool of top candidates, all searches for tenure-track faculty will follow the process defined by this document.

Membership of Search Committee:

- Size: odd number of members, normally five (5) total, including Search Committee Chair;
- Eligibility: all members must be full-time faculty (tenured, tenure-track, or entitled lecturers);
- Two members from outside the recruiting department, with at least one of these to come from another Cal Maritime School or Library;
- If size of Committee exceeds five, a proportional membership from outside the department shall be kept (e.g., a Committee of seven will have three members from outside the department);
- All members, including those from outside the department, must be chosen in consultation with and receive support from Dean of recruiting department;
• The Dean of the Library may approve the inclusion of one staff member in the place of a faculty member;
• Search Committee must be chaired either by the hiring Department Chair or by a member elected by the Search Committee;
• All members are required to complete the HR recruitment and hiring training module prior to the launch of the search process (unless modules were completed within previous year and certified by HR).

Procedures
Procedures and steps to be followed appear in the draft timeline attachment.

Duties and Responsibilities

• Department Chair Responsibilities*
  o Complete and submit Request for Tenure-Track Faculty Search, following established procedures (insert link here) o Create the Request for Hire document and obtain the Dean’s approval before submitting to Provost;
  o Identify faculty Search Committee membership, in collaboration with the department faculty, and send proposed membership to Dean;
  o Consult with Dean about proposed membership and obtain Dean’s approval;
  o Oversee Faculty Search Committee Chair election and inform Dean;
  o Work with HR designate, with Search Committee Chair, and with Search Committee members to craft the position listing and to identify placements that will attract a qualified and diverse applicant pool;
  o As process enters the phase involving finalists, collaborate with Search Committee Chair in presenting finalists’ background to department faculty and requesting feedback on campus interviews;
  o Toward close of search process, collaborate with Search Committee Chair in presenting Committee’s final report to Dean;
  o Inform Department of new faculty colleague after acceptance of offer;
  o *For departments without a Chair, such as the Library, these responsibilities are the Dean’s.

• Search Committee Chair Responsibilities
  o Ensure all required recruitment training—including discussion of training on implicit bias—is completed by all Committee members prior to their receipt of link to list of applicants;
  o Ensure that all steps of this policy procedure are followed and that the confidentiality of the process is preserved;
  o Work with Department Chair, Committee members, Dean, and HR to craft the position listing and to identify placements that will attract a qualified and diverse applicant pool;
  o Meet with Dean at key points of process: to present list of applicants, to present semi-finalists, and to recommend finalists for on-site interview; include statement for dean about how diversity of the candidate pool has been sought;
  o At each one of these key points, confer with HR recruiter about diversity of the applicant pool;
o Ensure that Dean is updated on the progress of search and screening process;
o Prepare and lead the semi-finalists interviews, including consultation with HR recruiter on interview questions and on best practices for ascertaining candidates’ commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion;
o Collaborate with Department Chair in presenting finalists’ background to the department faculty and requesting feedback on campus interviews;
o Write final report of strengths and weaknesses of finalists;
o Meet with the Dean to present final report of unranked finalists, including general comments received.

- Dean Responsibilities
  o Confer with the Provost on the Request for Hire; o After consultation with the Department Chair, approve of search committee members o Ensure that Tenure-Track Faculty Search steps are followed;
o Confer with HR recruiter on best practices for building diversity of applicant pool;
o Confer with the Provost on the search progress at the semi-finalist and finalist stages o Present to the Provost the final report of unranked finalists, including general comments received and recommends hiring; include statement for provost about how diversity of the candidate pool has been sought;
o Identify salary range in collaboration with the Provost, HR and the Operations & Budget Director;
o Normally, the Dean makes the offer and negotiates contractual issues within the limitations of the CBA
